THE IMPACT OF THE BOLOGNA PROCESS ON THE PROCEDURE OF QUALITY ASSURANCE

EUROPEAN
Higher Education Area

THE PRAGUE COMMUNIQUÉ (May 2001)

The development of cooperation in the field of quality assurance

Ministers recognize the vital role that quality assurance systems play in ensuring high quality standards and emphasize the necessity of close European cooperation and mutual trust in and acceptance of national quality assurance systems.

Ministers called upon the universities and other higher education institutions, national agencies and the European Network of Quality Assurance in Higher Education (ENQA, created in 2000), in cooperation with corresponding bodies from countries which are not members of ENQA, to collaborate in establishing a common framework of reference and to disseminate best practice.

DEVELOPMENT OF THE FIRST EDITION OF STANDARDS

EUROPEAN
Higher Education Area

THE BERLIN COMMUNIQUÉ (September 2003)

By 2005 national quality assurance systems should include:

- A definition of the responsibilities of the bodies and institutions involved.
- Evaluation of programmes or institutions, including internal assessment, external review, participation of students and the publication of results.
- A system of accreditation, certification or comparable procedures.
- International participation, co-operation and networking.

At the European level Ministers call upon ENQA and its members in cooperation with the EUA, EURASHE and ESIB to develop and agree standards, procedures and methodological recommendations on the quality assurance of education, to explore the opportunities for creating an appropriate system of external review for quality assurance agencies and to prepare a report for the next meeting of Ministers in 2005.

First edition of ESG 2005

Standards and Guidelines for Quality Assurance in the European Higher Education Area

THE BERGEN COMMUNIQUÉ (Bergen, May 2005)

*We adopt the standards and guidelines for quality assurance in the European Higher Education Area as proposed by ENQA. We commit ourselves to introducing the proposed model for peer review of quality assurance agencies on a national basis, while respecting the commonly accepted guidelines and criteria. We welcome the principle of a European register of quality assurance agencies based on national review.

The adopted standards were divided into three parts :

- ✓ Standards for internal quality assurance of HEIs;
- ✓ Standards for external quality assurance of HEIs;
- ✓ Standards for external quality assurance of QA agencies

The key non-governmental organization of European quality assurance agencies, which is recognized by all Ministers signed the Bologna Declaration

2000 - network; 2004 - association

47 full members from 25 countries and 46 affiliates from 15 countries
Consulting body of the Bologna Follow-up Group (BFUG)

Criteria for full membership of agencies: compliance with the “Standards and Guidelines (ESG), on the basis of the self-assessment report and external review”.

Systematic assessment of quality assurance agencies in the EHEA once in 5 years.

CEENQA – regional network of ENQA, has 29 full members.

- to encourage and develop the exchange of information and experience relating to the quality assurance of higher education, in particular on methodological developments and examples of good practice;
- to function as a policy forum, developing and proposing standards, procedures and guidelines for quality assurance;
- to fulfil requests for expertise and advice from European Ministers of Education, national and regional public authorities and other bodies associated with the European Higher Education Area (EHEA);
- to facilitate quality assurance activities in the area of transnational higher education;
- to promote the development and implementation of effective systems for quality assurance and accreditation agencies;
- to co-ordinate the management of reviews of quality assurance and accreditation agencies;

EQAR – established in 2008 at the request of European ministers of education in Bergen (2005) and London (2007).

The founders are the E4 Group – ENQA, EUA, EURASE, ESU.

EQAR is a register of quality assurance agencies, that have demonstrated their substantial compliance with ESG. It includes 39 agencies from 20 countries.

The Register has been established to:

- promote student mobility by providing a basis for the increase of trust among higher education institutions;
- reduce opportunities for “accreditation mills” to gain credibility;
- provide a basis for governments to authorise higher education institutions to choose any agency from the Register, if that is compatible with national arrangements;
- provide a means for higher education institutions to choose between different agencies, if that is compatible with national arrangements;
- serve as an instrument to improve the quality of agencies and to promote mutual trust among them.

TRENDS IN QUALITY ASSURANCE IMPACT OF EQAR ON THE STRUCTURE OF AGENCIES

Merger of agencies in the sector of higher education

- Ireland (three agencies are merged in one)
- Austria (three agencies are merged in one)
- Belgium-Flanders (two agencies are merged in one)

Creation of the regulated competition on the market of accreditation services

- In German-speaking countries :

Germany, Austria, Switzerland (37 programmes during 2014 and 2015 were accredited by foreign agencies in three countries)

- In Kazakhstan – establishment of the National Register of Accreditation Bodies with 10 agencies: 8 foreign agencies accredited over 400 study programmes (data as of May 2016), though EQAR provides another data.

STANDARDS AND GUIDELINES FOR QUALITY ASSURANCE IN THE EUROPEAN HIGHER EDUCATION AREA

ESG 2015 Download PDF

The Standards and guidelines for quality assurance in the European Higher Education Area (ESG) were adopted by the Ministers responsible for higher education in 2005 following a proposal prepared by the European Association for Quality Assurance in Higher Education (ENQA) in co-operation with the European Students' Union (ESU), the European Association of Institutions in Higher Education (EURASHE) and the European University Association (EUA).

Since 2005, considerable progress has been made in quality assurance as well as in other Bologna action lines such as qualification frameworks, recognition and the promotion of the use of learning outcomes, all these contributing to a paradigm shift towards student-centred learning and teaching.

The standards set out agreed and accepted practice for quality assurance in higher education in the EHEA(WHAT?)

The guidelines explain why the standard is important and describe how standards might be Implemented (HOW?)
